Question asked (ID177)

Is there a mapping link between the sustainability matters listed in AR 16 and the disclosure requirements in the topical standards or must judgement be used in deciding the disclosures required for a material sustainability matter?

Key terms

Correspondence between sustainability material matters and disclosure requirements.

ESRS reference

ESRS 1 paragraph 30:

“30. When the undertaking concludes that a sustainability matter is material as a result of its materiality assessment, on which ESRS 2 IRO-1, IRO-2 and SBM-3 set disclosure requirements, it shall:

(a) disclose information according to the Disclosure Requirements (including Application Requirements) related to that specific sustainability matter in the corresponding topical and sector-specific ESRS; and

(b) disclose additional entity-specific disclosures (see paragraph 11 and AR 1 to AR 5 of this Standard) when the material sustainability matter is not covered by an ESRS or is covered with insufficient granularity.”

ESRS 1 paragraph 31 – materiality of information:

“31. The applicable information prescribed within a Disclosure Requirement, including its datapoints, or an entity-specific disclosure, shall be disclosed when the undertaking assesses, as part of its assessment of material information, that the information is relevant from one or more of the following perspectives:

(a) the significance of the information in relation to the matter it purports to depict or explain; or

(b) the capacity of such information to meet the users’ decision-making needs, including the needs of primary users of general-purpose financial reporting described in paragraph 48 and/or the needs of users whose principal interest is in information about the undertaking’s impacts.”

ESRS 1 Appendix E: Flowchart for determining disclosures under ESRS (and related par 33 (on PAT) and 34 (on metrics))

EFRAG IG1 Materiality Assessment paragraphs 77 and 78: approaches to identify actual and potential impacts, risks and opportunities related to sustainability matters

“77. The process of identification of the potential matters may start with the screening of the list of matters summarised in ESRS 1 paragraph AR 16 and then be complemented with additional entity-specific matters....

76. The undertaking may also develop a ‘long’ list of impacts, risks and opportunities relevant to its business model and upstream/downstream value chain and aggregate them following the structure provided in ESRS 1 paragraph AR 16). ...Then, the undertaking could compare the matters identified with the list in ESRS 1 AR16 for completeness. The two approaches may be combined. »

Answer

- 1 Judgment is required to determine the information to be included in the sustainability statement. The first step is the identification of the matters that are material and, as such, to be covered by the reporting. Once these matters have been identified, the undertaking assesses the materiality of the information, i.e. it determines the information to be reported on the material matters (ESRS 1 paragraph 30). The general criteria applied for this judgment are relevance and decision usefulness (ESRS 1 paragraph 11, 31 and 34).
- 2 In particular, if a sustainability matter (i.e., topic, sub-topic or sub-sub-topic) listed in AR16 is assessed as being material, the general filtering process to determine the information to disclose can be described as follows:
  - (a) For policies, actions and targets the undertaking shall include the information required by the corresponding disclosure requirements in topical standards and the information required by ESRS 2 Minimum Disclosure Requirements on policies, actions and targets in compliance with ESRS 1 paragraph 33;
  - (b) For metrics, the undertaking shall assess the materiality of information in compliance with ESRS1 paragraph 31 and 34. Assessing the materiality of information helps determine which metrics (or which datapoints of metrics disclosure requirements) are material and as such should be disclosed. For example:
    - (i) if an environmental impact is assessed as being material, this does not automatically trigger the disclosure “Anticipated financial effect”<sup>1</sup> to be disclosed; this is because the matter may not be financially material even if it is a material impact;
    - (ii) if a disclosure requirement of metrics is structured to cover a list of specific datapoints, the undertaking may conclude that one or more of those datapoints are not material as not applicable given its specific facts and circumstances,
- 3 To support the application of paragraph 34, this explanation articulates the relationship between the sustainability matters described in ESRS 1 AR16 and the disclosure requirements in the topical standards. In addition to disclosing information from topical ESRS, the undertaking shall also include entity-specific information when this is necessary (ESRS 1 paragraph 11).
- 4 This explanation includes a flowchart, narrative content and mapping tables.
- 5 The mapping tables cover the topical standards for E, S and G topics. They do not include:
  - (a) ESRS 1 General Requirements, as ESRS1 does not set specific disclosures;
  - (b) ESRS 2 General Disclosures, as ESRS2 disclosures are to be disclosed irrespective of the outcome of the materiality assessment [ESRS 1 par. 29]. By extension, it does not include the ESRS 2 related disclosures that are included in the topical standards (for example, ESRS S1 SBM-3), for which the treatment specified in ESRS 2 paragraph 2 is applicable;

- (c) The entity specific (and sector specific) matters whereby undertaking shall add metrics if it concludes that “an impact, risk or opportunity is not covered or not covered with sufficient granularity by an ESRS but is material due to specific facts and circumstances” (refer to ESRS 1 para 11 and 30 (b)).
- 6 The mapping is aimed at supporting undertakings in determining the Disclosure Requirements (including Application Requirements) related to a specific material sustainability matter in the corresponding topical ESRS as required in ESRS 1 paragraph 30.
- 7 For metrics, there is no systematic “one-to-one” relationship between a matter (as captured by AR16) and a topical disclosure requirement. This means that in general all the disclosure requirements in a topical standard are applicable to all the matters covered by the topical standards, however there are exception to this rule. Given the specificities in the architecture of the topical standards, the list of possible scenarios is detailed below.
- 8 Some metric disclosure requirements are likely to be relevant when any of the related sub-topic or sub-sub-topic in a topical standard are assessed to be material. This is the case for instance for S1-6 and S1-7 characteristics of own workforce in cases where own workforce or any related sub-topics or sub-sub-topics is assessed to be material.
- 9 Some metric disclosure requirements are directly related to one specific sub-topic, or sub-sub-topic. This is the case for instance for:
  - (a) G1-6 Payment practice, which is related to the sub-topic “Management of relationships with suppliers including payment practices “;
  - (b) many sub-sub-topics of ESRS S1 which are directly covered by specific the disclosure requirements. For instance, the sub-sub-topic health & safety is directly related to the disclosure requirement S1-14 Health and Safety;
  - (c) the sub-topic “micro plastics” for which the relevant metric is embedded in the broader Disclosure Requirement ESRS E2-4 Pollution of air, water and soil.
- 10 The social standards ESRS S2 to S4 do not have standardised metrics beyond the disclosure requirements of policies, actions and targets (i.e., MDR-P, MDR-A, MDR-T).
- 11 Due to these differences of structure between topical standards, the answer to this ID differs by topic and the mapping in this document evidences the direct links that exist between matters and disclosure requirements or datapoints, where such direct links exist. When this direct link does not exist, the general rule applies.
- 12 The mapping of AR16 with DRs does not link matters listed in AR16 to datapoints, except in the case where sub-topics or sub-sub-topics are directly mentioned in a datapoint (and not in the title of the Disclosure requirements). This is the case for instance for microplastics in ESRS E2, for water withdrawals and water discharges in ESRS E3 or for waste in ESRS E5.

Disclaimers

- 13 This explanation is not intended to be used as a tool to support the assessment of the materiality of sustainable topics (or matters), but it can be helpful once the material matters have been determined, to support preparers to identify the DR and datapoints that are linked to the matters (topics, sub-topics and sub-sub-topics) assessed as being material.
- 14 AR 16 shall be considered when performing the materiality assessment, but the materiality of each sub-topic or sub-sub-topic should not necessarily be assessed.
- 15 If the undertaking has assessed entity specific matters not listed in AR16 as material, ESRS1 paragraphs 11, 30(b) and AR1 to 5 and ESRS1 chapter 10.1 apply<sup>2</sup>.
- 16 The mapping in this explanation does not imply any automatism relating to the conclusion on materiality of a metric when the related matter has been deemed material. It is still possible for the undertaking to conclude that a disclosure requirement of metrics or a datapoint of disclosure requirement of metrics are not material (or not applicable) to the undertaking, despite they pertain to a material matter. Judgment must be exercised to determine the Disclosure Requirements and datapoints to be disclosed once the materiality assessment has been performed and the materiality of information should be assessed.
- 17 The mapping in this explanation is based on the assumption that the relationships between sustainability matters across two different topical ESRS (for instance, the relationship of Climate Change and Biodiversity, the relationship between Biodiversity and Affected communities) or the relationships between sustainability matters within one topic (for instance the relationship between Climate change adaptation and Energy – which are both covered by ESRS E1, or the relationship of Collective Bargaining and adequate wages – which are both covered by ESRS S1) have been evidenced by the undertaking at the level of the materiality assessment and that such interrelations will be reflected when assessing materiality of information. For example, if an undertaking has identified material negative impacts related to ESRS S3 Affected Communities due to negative material impacts on ESRS E4 Biodiversity connected to the undertaking, this relationship would be identified when performing the materiality assessment described in ESRS 2 IRO-1. Another example is where pollution of water (ESRS E2) limits the availability of clean water (ESRS E3) and poses a threat to the state of ecosystems (ESRS E4) and water and sanitation access of communities (ESRS S3). Those links may influence the preparers approach to identifying interrelated disclosure requirements when performing the materiality assessment as per ESRS 2 IRO-1.

Mapping tables

E1 Climate Change

- 20 Judgment shall be used to determine the disclosure requirements and datapoints to be disclosed once a matter related to Climate change listed in AR16 has been assessed as being material.
- 21 However, the following can be noted:
- (a) Since the sub-topics of energy and climate change mitigation are closely linked, it is expected that for undertakings for which one of both is material, the other is as well material;
  - (b) E1-1 Transition plan relates to climate change mitigation;
  - (c) Disclosure requirements or datapoints regarding resilience relate to climate change mitigation;
  - (d) DR E1-7 GHG removals and GHG mitigation projects financed through carbon credits is not expected to be disclosed unless the undertaking uses such financing tools. Even in such case, the materiality of information should be assessed;
  - (e) DR E1-8 Internal carbon pricing is not expected to be disclosed unless the undertaking has implemented such mechanism. Even in such case, the materiality of information should be assessed;
  - (f) Since the sub-topics of energy and climate change mitigation are closely linked, it is expected that undertakings for which one of both is material, the other is as well;
  - (g) DR E1-9 Anticipated financial effects is not expected to be disclosed if the matter is assessed as material only due to its impacts (and not also due to its risks or opportunities).

23 This is only a mapping of direct links from sub-topic in AR 16 to DRs in topical ESRS.

It is to be noted that sustainability topics in AR 16 are often interrelated. Based on the facts and circumstances of an undertaking, the materiality of a specific sub-topic or sub-sub-topic of a topical ESRS can trigger reporting requirements in other topical ESRS (please refer to the Disclaimer section of this explanation).

It is to be noted that sustainability topics in AR 16 are often interlinked. Based on the facts and circumstances of an undertaking, the materiality of a specific sub-topic of a topical ESRS can trigger reporting requirements in other topical ESRS.

It is to be noted that sustainability topics in AR 16 are often interlinked. Based on the facts and circumstances of an undertaking, the materiality of a specific sub-topic of a topical ESRS can trigger reporting requirements in other topical ESRS.

S1 Own workforce - Metrics

- 38 Judgment must be used to determine the disclosure requirements and datapoints to be disclosed once a matter related to Own workforce listed in AR16 has been assessed as being material
- 39 However, it should be noted that the holistic view is important for S1 as some of the sub-topics interrelate and hence these could be managed together or at least assessed more than one sub-topic. This is the case for instance for working conditions and equal treatment which are issues that often interrelate. A fragmented approach to selecting some disclosure requirements and not others should be avoided.
